A SUMMARY VIEW OF THE RISE, CONSTITUTION, and PRESENT STATE OF
The SCOTS CORPORATION in LONDON.

IF to feed the Hungry, cloath the Naked, and visit the Sick and the Prisoner, be, by our blessed Saviour himself, made the distinguishing Badge of his true Disciples; and if even the most Profligate and Abandoned have, in such Circumstances, a just Claim to our Charity; this great Duty will be seen in the strongest Point of Light, when the Objects for whom Relief is hereby proposed, whilst they are in all Respects the most helpless, are, at the same Time, some of the most sober and industrious, and consequently most useful of the People.

THAT this is generally the true Character of the poor Artificers and Manufacturers of the Scots Nation in London, will sufficiently appear from the following succinct Account.

THEY usually come up hither soon after learning their respective Employments; and, as they fix here for their Lives, many of them marry, and honestly bring up a numerous Offspring to be useful Members of the Community. Some few of them, 'tis true, become reputable and substantial Masters and Housekeepers; but the Bulk of them will, in the Course of Things, ever remain Servants and Inmates all their Lives, in which Condition few of them can make Provision for Old-Age, nor even for a Fit of Sickness, or other sudden Casualty. When therefore they are, by any Accident, disabled from following their Callings, their Condition may truly be termed most helpless. On one Hand, many of them are not entitled to the legal Provision for the Poor here; and, on the other, they are not only very remote from the Places of their Birth, but are, by long Absence, generally become utter Strangers to their native Country, and have frequently outlived their Friends and Relations there.

Its Rise. IN this deplorable Situation were the Scots Poor in London, when a Number of Merchants and Artificers of that Nation, residing here, did, in Commiseration of the Distresses of their Countrymen, join in obtaining Letters-Patents from King Charles the Second, dated the 30th of June 1665. "For incorporating them" [the Petitioners] "and their Successors for ever, by the Name of" "The Governors (who were eight in Number, one of whom was" "to be annually elected Master) of the Scotish Hospital of the" "Foundation of King Charles the Second; which Hospital, or" "Workhouse, they were impowered to erect any where within" "the City or Liberty of Westminster, for the Maintenance of ho" "nest, old, and decayed Artificers of that Nation, and for train" "ing up their Children to manual Occupations."

The 2d Charter, dated the 16th of Nov. 1676. 33 Assistants added to the 8 Governors. THEY obtained a second Charter of the said King, eleven Years after the former. It was dated the 16th of November 1676. whereby "They had Thirty-three Assistants added to the Eight" "Governors; the said Assistants to meet yearly on St. Andrew's" "Day (30th Nov.) and present to the Governors, either two Gover" "nors who have not served the Office of Master, or (if they" "have all served) the two eldest Assistants who have served the" "other principal Offices; or else, two other eminent Natives" of

“ of Scotland: One of which two, so presented, the Governors “ are to elect Master for the ensuing Year.—And they are now to “ be called, THE MASTER, GOVERNORS, AND ASSISTANTS OF THE “ SCOTISH HOSPITAL OF THE FOUNDATION OF KING CHARLES
 “ THE SECOND;—With Power to purchase, take, &c. Lands to the May pur-“ Value of Five hundred Pounds per Annum (including One hundred chafe, &c.
 “ Pounds per Annum allowed by the former Charter)——And 500 l. per “ Liberty given them to erect their Hospital either in London, or Annum in “ in Westminster and its Liberties.” This last Clause was occa- Lands.
 sioned by the Corporation’s having, some Time before, altered their original Intention with regard to the Situation of their Hospital, or Hall: For so great was the Zeal of those Days for this excellent Charity, that, by means of the great Liberality of the Scots Nobility and Gentry, as well as of their own Members, and of divers worthy Persons of the English Nation, that the Corpora- Their pre-tion was enabled, in the Year 1673, to build their present Hall in sent Hall Black-friars, with six adjoining Tenements. and Hou-anno 1673.

FROM the Tenor of both Charters, it appears to have been the original Intention of the worthy Promoters of this Corporation to lodge their Poor (both old and young) all together, after the usual Manner of Hospitals, or Alm-houses; but Experience has long since fully shewn, that they have been much better advised in following the present Method: For, besides the various Difficulties of executing that complicated Design in the very Nature of it, an Hospital is by no means proper for the Reception of Men with their Wives and Children, of whom the Scots Poor chiefly consist: And, if they are kept there for Life, they become so many useless Drones, and a Burden to the industrious Part of Mankind.

ON the contrary, by the excellent Plan, from the Beginning, pur-Constisued by this Corporation, all the useful and charitable Ends of an tion.
 Hospital are more frugally attained, and with infinitely greater Benefit to the Publick. For by supporting their Poor and Sick at their The Ex-own Habitations, they are not only enabled to extend their Charity cellency of to a larger Number and Variety of Objects, but, which is of the Corpo-greatest Consequence to the Publick, many of them are hereby re- ration’s stored to Health and Ability, to be again useful in their respective Me- hod of Callings, their Poor.

Callings, and such alone are supported in Idleness as are destitute and totally disabled from any Kind of Labour.

THE whole Oeconomy then of the Corporation may not improperly be termed, An Hospital of Out-Patients, and Out-Pensioners, viz.

The various Objects of this Charity.

I. SUCH Poor as, either through Age, or incurable Distempers, are quite disabled from earning any Part of their Livings; to whom, for that Reason, the Corporation allows a weekly Support till Death.

II. THE Casual Poor, or such as, by Sicknefs, or other incidental Misfortunes, are, for a Time, rendered incapable of helping themselves and Families. These have a weekly Allowance till restored to Health and Ability.

THE Sick are also carefully attended by the Corporation's Physician, Surgeon, and Apothecary, and duly supplied with Medicines at the publick Expence.

AND that the Corporation may, from Time to Time, be duly acquainted with the real Condition of their Sick and Poor, two of the Court of Assistants do charitably undertake the troublesome Office of Visitors.

III. A THIRD Sort are such who, though still able (as well as willing) to earn somewhat for their Subsistence, are nevertheless (by their growing into Years, large Families, and accidental Losses) frequently compelled to petition for occasional Relief; of which they have Instances every Court-day at their Hall.

IV. THE Corporation also frequently assists such of their Poor with Money for their Journey, as have any Relations in their own Country, who are willing to keep them.

LASTLY, They decently bury all their Poor, at the Expence of the Charity.

To prevent the Idle and Extravagant from reaping any Benefit from an Institution intended solely for the Sober and Industrious, and, at the same Time, to engage Men, by the strong Motive of Interest, to contribute somewhat to the Necessities of others, it is a standing Rule, That no Person is entitled to this Charity, who did not whilst in Youth and Ability, enter himself a Member of this Corporation, subject also to the following Qualifications and Conditions, viz. 1. That he be known to some of the Governors or Assistants to be a sober and industrious Person. 2. That he have some lawful and regular Trade or Occupation. And, 3. That he pay down a small Sum for Entrance-Money, and contribute One Shilling Quarterly during Life, or Ability.

To demonstrate the Zeal, Disinterestedness, and Frugality practised by the Managers of this Charity, it is to be observed, That the Governors and Assistants (many of whom are Gentlemen of Distinction, and all of them Persons of Fortune and Character) besides contributing generously towards the Charity, are at the sole Charge of an annual publick Dinner at the Hall, on St. Andrew's Day, for the Entertainment of Benefactors, &c. The Charity is put to no Expence on Account of any of their Committees, or other Meetings, for the Service of the Corporation. Every Assistant makes a handsome Donation at his Admission, and every Master a much larger one at the Conclusion of his Office. The Treasurer also, who is annually elected from among the Assistants, is at much Trouble, and some Expence in his Office. The quarterly Contributions are collected by two Stewards, chosen out of the Generality at a Common-Hall, and, to prevent Frauds, changed every Quarter: These make up their Accounts, and pay their Money into the Treasurer's Hand, at the End of their Quarter; and the Treasurer's Accounts are carefully audited, at the Expiration of his Office, by a select Committee.

AFTER so much Care and Pains, and so much Frugality and Oeconomy, is truly melancholy to be obliged to add, That the whole Revenue of the Corporation, as well from the Rents of their Houses, &c. as from their quarterly Contributions, hardly, one Year with another, exceeds two fifth Parts of the annual Charge for the urgent Necessities of their Poor. Nevertheless, by the good Provi-

Providence of God, they have hitherto been enabled, when under the greatest Difficulties, to supply the other three Fifths, merely by casual Benefactions from well disposed Persons.

The
sion.

To conclude : As the Poor under the Care of this Corporation do, in every Light, merit Compassion and Support from charitably disposed and publick-spirited Persons in general, as well English as Scots ; so, in particular, do they challenge the more immediate Regard of the Inhabitants of London and Westminster, in whose Service and for whose Benefit they have spent their Youth, Time, and Strength. And it is also humbly and especially hoped, That those of their own Country, who are persons of QUALITY and DISTINCTION, and to whom Providence has been bountiful, will, agreeable to the Practice of their illustrious Ancestors, SET A LAUD-ABLE EXAMPLE TO OTHERS.

N. B. Benefactions may be paid into the Hands of the Master or Treasurer for the Time being, or to any of the Governors or Assistants.

BENEFACTORS to the CORPORATION, to the First of January, 1761.

N. B. For Brevity's Sake, no Donations under Five Pounds are here inserted. Those marked with Gov. after their Names are, or have been, Governors, after having served the annual Office of Master of the Corporation. Those marked with Tr. are such of the Court of Assistants as have served the Office of Treasurer, but not that of Master. And those marked with an A. are such as have been, or now are, of the Court of Assistants.

The early and magnificent Bounty of His Grace the first Duke of BEDFORD, Great Grandfather to his present Grace of BEDFORD, justly deserves to be placed in the Front of this Catalogue; that NOBLE PATRIOT having generously given the Corporation a Piece of Ground in White-bart-yard, near Covent-Garden, whereon to build their then intended Hospital; in grateful and perpetual remembrance whereof, his Grace's Picture was long since set up in their HALL.
